

Broadcast & Film Open House

Friday, May 3, 2019

- 8:45 a.m. Check in and continental breakfast (Welcome Center)
- 9:00 a.m. Welcome & Admissions Session (UN 111)
Adela Hufford, Associate Vice President for Enrollment and Retention
Admissions Counselor(s) ???
- 9:30 a.m. Broadcasting, Communication, and Filmmaking at Goshen College (UN111)
Jason Samuel, Asst Professor of Communication and WGCS General Manager
- 10:00 a.m. Facilities Tour: FiveCore Media, TV studio, WGCS 91.1 radio station
Jason Samuel, Asst Professor of Communication and WGCS General Manager
- 11:00 a.m. Deep Dive: A Midwestern Legacy in the Florida Keys
The film chronicles the 50-plus year history of Goshen College's Marine Biology program and the relationships built with the Layton, Florida community where the facility is housed.

The film won two Indiana Association of School Broadcasters (IASB) awards, as well as second place for best short film (fictional narrative or documentary) and another second place for best cinematography. The IASB are the top state awards for colleges with media and broadcasting programs.
- 12:00 p.m. Lunch (Westlawn Dining Hall)
- 12:40 p.m. Depart for Downtown Goshen
- 1:00 p.m. Meet Goshen College filmmakers (Downtown Goshen)
Kyle Hufford, Asst Professor of Communication and FiveCore Media General Manager
Meet current GC student filmmakers and GC alums working with the River Bend Film Festival.
- 2:00 p.m. Workshop: Make Up for Film with Sarah Elizabeth (Art House)
Sarah Elizabeth, a Goshen, Indiana native and Goshen College alumnus resides in Vancouver Canada. She is an award-winning makeup artist for television, theatre, and film. She is a member of both the Canadian Film Union ACFC and a member of IATSE local 981.
- 3:00 p.m. Refreshment Break (The Electric Brew)
- 4:00 p.m. The Art of Filmmaking: A Conversation with John Hancock (ArtHouse)
This talkback with award winning Indiana writer and director John Hancock is an intimate discussion about the art of filmmaking.

You are invited to stay and enjoy the River Bend Film Festival and Goshen First Fridays!

5-8 p.m. Taste of the Festival (Downtown Goshen Stores)

Downtown Goshen stores host visiting filmmakers into their businesses to showcase their work and meet the public. Filmmakers will give presentations at various locations throughout the evening.

5-8 p.m. Taste of Goshen (Downtown Goshen, East Washington)

Goshen is rich with flavors from around the globe. On this evening, we celebrate the assortment of influences that make Goshen so delicious. Sample flavors from the international food vendors on East Washington Street.

7:30 p.m. Feature Film: This is Love (Downtown Goshen, Goshen Theater)

Directed by John Alexander

The film is followed by a Q&A session with Producer Shawn Rhodes on the theater stage.

This is Love | Funkumentary | 2018

Rudy Love can't help but make music, even though it's all been taken away. From his first contract fraudulently signed when he was 17, Love has been losing his music to the business ever since. His voice has been woven into hits from every decade since the sixties, yet he lives unknown in Wichita, Kansas. But that doesn't concern him: all Rudy Love wants to do is sing.

His name circles among musicians like a ghost, an unseen guru who's been influencing listeners whether they know it or not. People like Jay Z, Sly Stone, and George Clinton herald him as an unsung hero of soul. Why haven't you heard of him? Because the music business is vicious, and Rudy only cares about Love.